

As a responsible researcher I appreciate the controlled access to non historical bdsm registrations.

I'm in the later stage of a study of the NZ descendants of a couple who arrived in 1841, and would like to complete the collection of data.

This information is stored securely and not distributed.

I believe the current regulations are adequate and would like this type of access to continue.

John Catley.