The form must not be filled in by your wife, husband, de facto, partner, civil union partner, parent or friend unless you are under 16 years of age or have a disability or language difficulty that prevents you filling it in yourself.

If you choose to send your application to New Zealand for processing, payment can either be made by credit card (DINERS credit cards not acceptable) or by bank draft or bank cheque made out in New Zealand dollars drawn on a New Zealand bank.

New Zealand Fees

	Standard	Urgent
Adult	NZ$150	NZ$300

Warning

If your cheque is dishonoured by the bank, you will be liable for any costs the Department of Internal Affairs incurs in recovering that fee. Additional costs will include bank and debt collector charges.

Where fees have not been paid for an issued passport, we may amend your passport details on our computer so that it cannot be used for travel.

How long is a Passport valid for?

Your New Zealand passport will be valid for travel until the expiry date shown in the passport. This will usually be a maximum of 5 years from the date of issue. It is a requirement of some governments that a passport needs to have at least 6 months validity remaining after the date of intended departure from the country being visited.

What if my Passport or Travel Document has been lost, stolen or damaged?

If your passport or travel document has been lost or stolen you must report it to Police. If you require a replacement passport, complete this application form, including the Declaration of Loss, Theft or Damage on page 12 and enclose Police report or signed Police acknowledgement slip quoting crime reference number. The Passport Office may at its discretion, issue a replacement passport for a period less than the full period of validity.

The loss or theft of a passport or travel document is a serious matter, and there may be some delay while enquiries are made before a replacement can be issued. If your Passport or Travel Document is lost or stolen outside of New Zealand, then contact your nearest New Zealand Passport Office or New Zealand Embassy, High Commission or Consulate, and report to local police.

Do I need a visa?

Some countries will require you to have an entry visa. Check with your travel agent or contact the nearest Embassy, High Commission or Consulate of the countries you are planning to visit.

Proof of identity

Witness Information

Ask someone you know who can identify you to fill in the 'Proof of Identity' information on page 11 and certify one of your photos. This person will be called your witness and needs to meet the requirements outlined below.

We advise you and your witness to read all of this page carefully before writing anything.

Completing this section correctly will help ensure that a passport is issued without delay.

If you are filling out this passport application for yourself, or for your child, you must not write on the 'Proof of Identity' page, or write anywhere on the passport photo, not even the name.

The Proof of Identity information on page 11 must be completed in full.

The Passport Office will make up to two attempts to contact the witness for the rest of their details. If the witness can't be contacted the applicant will be asked to find another witness.

A witness will:

- Complete all of the Proof of Identity page in their OWN handwriting
- Write the full name of the person applying for the passport on the back of one of the photos, sign their own name and date the back of the same photo in their OWN handwriting.

The photos must be:

- On high quality photographic paper of high resolution, instant colour film or low gloss coated thermal papers providing the printers are high resolution printing systems.
- No ink jet printers, extremely high gloss paper or heavily backed thermal paper
- Photo size: actual 45mm height x 35mm width
- Head size: max 80% of photo (36mm) / min 70% of photo (32mm).

The witness who identifies you on page 11 must write your full name on the back of one photo, and then sign and date it.

How do I transfer my UK Residency Stamps or Visas into my new Passport?

The New Zealand Passport Office has no authority to transfer visas issued for the UK or other countries from one NZ passport to another. When your new passport is issued your cancelled passport will be returned to you and you will need to approach the UK Home Office (phone 0870 606 7766 or visit its website www.ind.homeoffice.gov.uk) to arrange the transfer of UK visas. To transfer visas for countries outside the UK you will need to approach the respective Embassy for assistance.

Applying for a Passport for a Child?

Children require their own passport to travel. An application for a passport can be made on behalf of a child who is aged under 16 years.

To apply for a passport for a child:

- Complete a separate application form for each child, and
- Fill out the whole application, including page 10 'Consent for Passport for Child Under the Age of 16'.

The consent of at least one parent named on the child's birth registration or of one guardian, as evidenced by guardianship documentation, is required. However, the Care of Children Act 2004 requires that all the guardians of a child must be consulted, where that is practicable, when making decisions about important matters affecting the child. The parent or guardian making the application for the child is responsible for consulting with the other parent or guardians of the child.

A parenting order (formerly known as custody or access orders) that gives day-to-day care or contact to one parent or guardian will not prevent the other parent or guardian from obtaining a passport for the child. A passport will be refused only if there is a court order made in New Zealand, or an overseas court order registered in New Zealand, which has the intent or effect of preventing the issue of a passport or removal of the child from his or her country of residence.

If you are unsure about these matters, you may wish to contact a solicitor for advice.

Guardians who are not the child's parents

If consent is given by a legal guardian who is not a parent of the child, documentary proof of guardianship is required.

This may be:

- a guardianship order issued by a New Zealand court;
- an additional guardian appointment form approved by a New Zealand court; or
- a copy of the parent's will appointing the person as a testamentary guardian together with the parent's death certificate.

A parenting order is not sufficient for this purpose. A step-parent is not, in a legal sense, a child's guardian unless appointed as a guardian through a court process or under a parent's will. Please provide original documents.

Who can make enquiries about a Child's Passport application?

We can only discuss the details of a child's application with the consenting parent or guardian as stated on the form, unless prior handwritten permission is provided by the consenting parent or guardian.

When must a Statutory Declaration be completed?

You will need to complete the 'Statutory Declaration' on page 13 and provide us with additional information if:

- You are wearing a hat or head covering for religious or medical reasons in your passport photo; or
- You are completing this form on behalf of a person aged 16 years or over who has a disability or language difficulty that prevents the person from completing the form for themselves; or
- Your passport has been damaged; or
- You wish to give, or are requested by the Department to provide, additional information.
